ORGANIZATION PICKS UM HOME PAGE AS 'SITE OF THE WEEK'

MISSOULA—

Educause, an organization for information technology in higher education, has selected The University of Montana Web site as a "Site of the Week."

Educause will feature the UM logo and link to its home page (<http://www.umt.edu>) on its Community page (<http://www.educause.edu/community>) beginning Monday, Aug. 15.

The "Site of the Week" feature showcases sites that are "well-designed, visually appealing and easy to use."

UM's Web site was developed in partnership with the campus Web Development Committee, Information Technology Office, University Relations and a student development team.

Educause is a nonprofit association whose mission is to advance higher education by promoting the intelligent use of information technology.
